

ATHS Athletic Banquet To Feature Bill Rohr

The Antioch Township High School Banquet for this year's athletes will be sponsored by the Antioch Lions Club.

Highlighting the program will be the appearance of Basketball Coach of Northwestern University, William D. Rohr.

Rohr, who took over the Northwestern University Basketball team five years ago, has coached himself in a sort of fame after manipulating the Wildcats into a contending force in the Big Ten.

Proving himself one of the fine strategists of college basketball last season, Rohr guided a manpower squad to a 10-12 over all record and a 6-8 record in the Big Ten race. His teams finished fourth in 1958, second in 1959 and third in 1960.

The Northwestern successes followed Rohr's pattern set at Miami University, where, in six years his team won four Mid-America conference titles and participated in three N.C.A.A. tournament playoffs.

Northwestern Basketball Coach, Bill Rohr, will speak before the 22nd Annual Athletic Banquet at ATHS on Monday, March 26.

From Massillon, O., Rohr won all-state honors in high school while playing for Coach Paul Brown. After graduating from Ohio Wesleyan in 1940, Rohr returned to Massillon to start his coaching career as assistant to Brown.

Board Talks of Bus Bidding

The Antioch Township High School Board met last Wednesday evening, March 21.

After the roll had been called and the board approved the minutes of the last meeting, Athletic Director, Ward Lear issued a report.

Among the subjects stemming from Engineer Porter Larson that were discussed dealt with seeding bids for property east of the Soo-Line railroad, construction of the new track and storage facilities.

Old business discussion involved bids on the school buses, appointment of judges for the April 14 Board of Education election and the Curriculum Committee report.

Members of this committee, Richard Ripley, chairman, William Brook and Roger Prossie recommended that segment 1 of the projected plan to fence the school property be executed by the board. Segment 1 includes fencing along the east side of the railroad tracks and paralleling the Quaker Industries property to the woods. The cost of this construction would be somewhat over $3,000.

Rohr served as head coach at Massillon before entering the Air Force in 1942. He was discharged in 1946 and became basketball coach and athletic director at Portsmouth, O., high school where in five years his teams won 82 of 111 games, a record that served as a stepping stone to Miami in 1951.

Widely known for the technical excellence of his teams, Rohr imparts an intense desire to his players—a quality which he says he learned from Paul Brown.

The Banquet, which is a Father and Son affair, is sure to be interesting with the presence of the well-rounded athletic director.

Antioch Easter Seal Campaign To Be Lead by Lorraine Huml

The appointment of Mrs. Lorraine D. Huml, of R. R. 1, Box 70A, Antioch, as chairman for the 1962 Easter Seal Parade in Antioch, was announced recently by Easter Seal Campaign Chairman Lou Durkin, of Waukegan.

Mrs. Huml will head a team of five captains and fifty door-to-door campaigners who will make the fund raising drive in Antioch as part of the county-wide effort to raise $25,000 for the Lake County Easter Seal Society. The door-to-door campaign will be held Sunday, April 1st.

The Lake County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults operates the Lake County Center for Rehabilitation, 709 North Ave., Waukegan, where more than 100 handicapped children and adults received physical therapy and other rehabilitation treatment during the past year.

"The Rehabilitation Center provides therapy treatment and rehabilitation for victims of cerebral palsy, birth defects, strokes, and many other disabling afflictions."

"The Easter Seal Society is one of the few health agencies raising money in Lake County which actually expends a major portion of these funds in the treatment of Lake County people in a Lake County facility," the chairman explained.

Approximately 80 per cent of the funds raised in Lake County will remain here for the operation of the Center and the rehabilitation program with $3,500 of the budgeted goal being earmarked for transfer to the state and national societies for crippled children and adults for research and development of rehabilitation techniques," Durkin asserted.

Nearly 2,000 volunteer workers will be taking part in the 1962 Easter Seal Campaign, according to J. N. Van Cleave, of Fox Lake, president of the Lake County chapter.

Water Level Is up 12½ in.

Growing concern for probable flood conditions in the Antioch area, especially Channel Lake, has increased rapidly within the last few days.

John F. Weiss, of Sequoit Harbor expressed concern over the steady rise of the water in his area. He stated that the water has risen a foot in the last week and that the Sequoit Creek has caused a tremendous overflow of water. Weiss stated that a measurement of 3½ inches of increased water level on Tuesday night was calculated. Four inches of water increase was measured the night before.

In 1960, gigantic floods hit the Channel Lake area, submerging the many subdivisions and resorts there under 32 inches of water.

Weiss went on to say that unless natural seepage continued and no rain of great degree hit the area, floods could not be averted this year.

Robert Webb, of Webb's Boat House, reported that he was worried about the solid ice formations still existent in his area. He measured a 9 inch increase of the water level last Tuesday night, March 20. He stated that the increase was 12½ inches above normal.

It is the 20-mile stretch of ice between Antioch and Johnsburg did not break up, it was estimated, serious flood conditions could evolve.

Miss Charlie Vosberg of the American Red Cross reported from Libertyville that the Des Plaines river, always a bottleneck on ice and threatening floods, as well as the Fox River, has caused several families to evacuate their homes for the safety of the recently established Red Cross Shelter.

Style Show to Highlight Merchants-Faculty Game

The Antioch Business Men will make their annual migration up to the high school Thursday, March 29, to do battle with the members of the faculty in the 4th annual BusinessMen-Faculty basketball game.

A charity affair, the proceeds from this year's contest will go towards the purchase of a motion picture camera for the high school athletic department. The camera will be used for recording the athletic contests and the films will be shown in and around the community.

Another big program is planned for this year's event and will feature a style show of swim wear and women's sports clothes provided by Gibbs & Jonsson Sporting Goods. The curtain raiser for the evening will see the Antioch High School freshmen in the basketball contest with their fathers.

The local business group, holding a 2 to 1 advantage for the series, will be out for their third victory. The Faculty is having a rather dismal season thus far, dropping their first game to the "A" Club 39 to 60.

Reports from the Faculty training camp have it that faculty scoring ace Larry Leon will be back in the lineup for this year's contest. Leon suffered a knee injury during a practice session last year and according to trainer Bill Seemann it is coming along nicely and Leon is expected to see action Thursday night.

The businessmen will meet another scoring threat in the form of Doug Risberg. Risberg scored 10 points against the A Club last week and the Business crowd will be reaching deep into their strategy bag for a means to stop him.

The sedate business team will show a few new faces as they take the court Thursday. Gone into the oblivion of retirement are such familiar names as Skinny Stanich, Dodger Cain, will.

Lon "Dixie" Roblin and "Clipper" Radke.

Taking their places will be Ken "high test" Bentner and John "Mixer" Blackman. Blackman will be coming out of retirement and will launch his "comeback" in Thursday night's contest.

A big question mark in the business men's lineup is Jack "Hooker" Fields. Fields was the big scoring gun for the Business Men in last year's victory and his two-handed set shot will be sorely missed if he doesn't appear in the lineup. Fields was unavailable for comment at this writing.

The proceeds stemming from this event should prove to be exceedingly beneficial to the Athletic Department of the High School as well as providing a wholesomely entertaining evening. Patronizing the affair by our residents is in keeping with the spirit of charity and good will.

THIEVES ENTER VACANT HOMES—TAKE FIXTURES

New houses being constructed on the Grass Lake Road across from the Lotus School have recently been burglarized.

Sheriff's Deputy McCormick reported that thieves had entered the vacant houses and taken household fixtures such as water pumps. A report of the thefts came into the Sheriff's Office on Sunday, March 18.

James Olson Urges Local Community Responsibility

Long-time Lake County businessman, James A. Olson, in his first race for political office has many startling things to say.

"The tax structure in any community should further enhance industry and business in general," Olson states. "Where there is a healthy attitude for business in a community, the employment of local people will result with their purchasing power considerably increased. This is the answer to growth, full employment and an explanation of the American way of life."

Already endorsed by Elia Township Committeemen, Olson is picking up constant and loyal support from all quarters of the county. This support is the outcome of Olson's legislative policies along with a strong stand on a solidified business front. He is a firm believer in a politically active community responsible to itself. "I will, as a legislator," Olson states, "demand from every community that it solve its own local problems. When a local problem becomes more than just that then other means that can be worked toward a solution must be made available."

Campaigning in the old style of meeting the voter on his own ground is one of Olson's aims. This door-to-door candidate has appeared before many groups throughout the 31st Representative district and has said that "a tax revision in Illinois would be acceptable but it must be an improvement. Let us face one important fact. No tax, no matter what kind, is fair to all people. Every tax, no matter how it is devised, hurts some more than others."

"One of the largest expense items in the state of Illinois is the Welfare Fund. Legislation should be enacted immediately to curb the abuses running rampant about the fund. This will enable destitute persons to receive aid and eliminate professional poachers from state expenses."

A rock-ribbed conservative, James A. Olson, stands for sensible legislation and pits himself against that of excessive spending.

Olson recently stated that his one main goal, making it his campaign promise, was to attend every session of the Assembly and at each attendance to do his utmost to bring "common sense" government to the people of Illinois.

EDITORIAL

The Countryside Hospital Plan

Recently, an irate reader of the Antioch News mailed a letter to us in which he complained of our not having given enough editorial attention to the Countryside Hospital Project.

We have contacted all of the major civic organizations within the Antioch area. We were told they knew nothing of the project, that they had not been contacted in regards to aid or support of any kind. On talking to representatives of the project, we were told that most of the organizations had been contacted but that since "the hospital would not be situated in Antioch and thereby not bringing business into the village," no one in this area was interested.

If this is so, a grievous charge of irresponsibility and gross negligence can be justly applied to those living in the Antioch area.

However, after careful inspection of the matter, we can not reasonably come to that conclusion.

The project, which has been four years to the present is still in its planning stages, seems to lack the proper guidance and leadership necessary for such a gigantic undertaking. Two million dollars is required before construction can be contemplated. Up to the present time only $50,000 has been collected. The lack of financial drives over a long period of time, seems to be indicative of the flagging interest to the project.

Many facets of the proposed hospital program are nevertheless worthwhile. The hospital when complete could accommodate one hundred persons and would be completely equipped with modern medical equipment and staffed by doctors practicing within the Avon, Grant, Antioch and Lake Villa areas. Its projected location between Fox Lake and Lake Villa would undoubtedly be a great benefit to emergency cases in the area, saving immeasurable time as well, perhaps as lives.

Still to be considered is the practical aspect of accumulating enough capital to undertake the massive project. The feasibility of this accomplishment has apparently yet to be explained to any representatives from the Antioch area.

In order to stimulate civic action in any community, we believe an effort should be made to contact, explain and persuade representation for this project as well as any other. No man can logically be a spokesman for rumors handed down in a word-of-mouth communication.

If concrete evidence is not shown that a project of this nature can be successful and beneficial to those expected to exert their energies towards its completion, then there is no obligation on the part of this community or any other to involve itself.

In order that those representing the Countryside Hospital project achieve their goals, they must first acquire a strong framework of cooperation among all of the communities expected to participate in their efforts.

A common ground of understanding and a willingness to work toward an achievable goal must first be instilled in the entire operation. From what is evident to us now, this is not the case.

A Farewell to Arms...

By Jay Nash

St. Patrick's Day will come and go but the Irish Republican Army (IRA) is no more. "General" Sirle's secret army, which at once time was represented by one person in each and every family in southern Ireland, has said a farewell to arms, passing its reasons and causes into history.

The history behind its movement is both grim and romantic. Ireland, which had been under English rule for centuries since the time of Robert Bruce, rebelled against the heavy English tax and other internal oppressions in the 1880's under Parnell, whose statues now dot the island like trees. The dispute, however, resolved itself on the marble floors of the English parliament, where Parnell both fighter and statesman, succeeded in having the taxes reduced and the English occupation troops thinned.

The Irish were content with these appeasement policies for over thirty years. When the first World War broke loose, the Irish refused to fight what they termed "a British War for British gain." The British threatened reprisals. Ireland shouted back, from the mouth of Eamon deValera, its new young insurgent. "If you want us to fight your war, you'll have to have one with us first."

Easter of 1916 saw open street fighting breaking out in downtown Dublin between English troops stationed in Ireland and Irish patriots. The Easter Rebellion, as it was later called, was suppressed by the British, with notable Irish rebels, Patrick H. Pease and Roger Casement, along with many others being executed. These executions incensed the Irish so much that they resorted to forming a secret army, the IRA, that was made up of civilian-clad fighters, who worked peacefully during the day in the city or farm, and at night, stalked the country roads and the candle-lit streets of Dublin in search of English troops to snipe at.

The British, stubborn-willed themselves into Ireland even though their armies were being expended in France to combat the German hordes of Hindenburg and Ludendorff. They refused to relinquish claim to the island and the undeclared war went on, finally subsiding to monthly raiding parties by about 1920.

The English, their war won and their armies returned, added pressure to the obstinate Irish by again increasing taxes, setting up ridiculous curfews, patrolling the streets in armored cars, and, in general, "hanging men and women for the wearing of the green." With money made available in Ireland's famine-stricken and depression-hit system of economy, the English induced Irishmen, desperate for financial support, to join their ranks. The "Black and Tan," an army of Irishmen wearing black and tan uniforms fought their own families in the streets. The institution of this army which was pitted against the IRA, caused the 1922 Civil War in Ireland.

The Irish Republican Army came, like the vanguard of Richard Coeur-de-Lion's crusaders, to the aid of the oppressed people of Ireland. Its ranks swelled. Heroes such as Michael Collins, deValera, Rory O'Connor vaulted from the darkness of their revolution to the dizzy heights of fanatic admiration. Collins led the Irish army that defeated the English and their "shanty Irish" mercenaries in the South and died one murky night at the hands of his own over-zealous men. O'Connor, with a motley band of patriots, took Four Courts, an English government building, and held it for days against the English under Winston Churchill. When it fell, he was taken to a stone wall and shot down before his countrymen who were compelled to watch. DeValera fled to America. The Civil War looked lost to the Irish, but the strain had been too much for the British Empire. They allowed the Irish the freedom they so desperately fought for. Ulster, the section of Ireland to the north which comprised six counties: Antrim, Armagh, Derry, Down, Fermanagh, and Tyrone with its capital in Belfast, was to remain under English rule, however. The rest of the southern Suddenly it's Spring! What a wonderful magic word that is after a winter such as we have had!

Like a distant relative who has overstayed his welcome, that soiled white stuff is finally taking its leave. The word sunshine is back in our vocabulary again. Not only the disappearing remains of winter tell us it's Spring, but certain inevitable signs of Spring are rearing their heads.

Dave Nissen has the horseless carriage out and all polished up! A massive flock of geese flew over Antioch Sunday afternoon. (The only thing that worries me is, when I saw them, they were heading south!)

Bill Meyer was trying out the first flag-pole sitting of the year in front of the P.O. Saturday. Fe (Sequoia Harbor) Weiss is measuring the rise of the water every day.

Howard Gaston is at it again! He's building another boat! Ship? Cruiser? Yacht? Oh, anyway, it's 19 ft. long with an 8 ft. beam, and with my limited nautical knowledge I don't know what you call that!

201 years of married life in one family! Seems like an impossibility? It's not! That's the combined years of wedded bliss (and how!) represented by four couples present at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins Golden Anniversary last week! Sisters, Mr. and Mrs. C. Craft and Mr. and Mrs. N. Burnette represented 55 and 53 years respectively. With Mr. and Mrs. Art Hawkins (brother) the youngsters with 43 years!

The seed racks are out in all the stores again, and I... Wonder what the Costoff brothers will plant in the south 40 at Ace Hardware now that it's plowed! (I'm only teasing, fellows!)

Another sure sign of Spring—Cardwell's D. Q. is open! My apologies to the Girl Scouts for omitting them last week. You really deserve mention for the wonderful displays all over town. A belated Happy Birthday anyway!

Picture of the week: (If I only had a camera) Officer Maplethorpe giving his autograph to Florence Hanke, and her shiny new car!

Petition time is here again and it looks like a real contested race for all school boards. Congrats to all of you who are showing a genuine interest in your community!

counties became the Irish Free State. Most of the Irish accepted this proposition. Everyone, that is, except the Irish Republican Army. They continued to rebel against the English edict which severed their country in two. Even when Ireland became a full Republic in 1937, the IRA was still active and found strong support.

For decades to the present, young men joined the secret ranks of the IRA, forced underground by its own government. Von deValera, one of its original leaders and now president of Ireland, outlawed the movement. All the pleadings and threats for the six counties to the north went unavailed.

In the throes of an unambitious and lackadaisical peace, the IRA drifted into and through the fifties heaped with scornful ridicule. Some people called them "that crazy army," "those foolish boys with pistols in their hands," "the idiot patriots." Ireland had settled for half of a country.

Finally, in resignation and bitterness, the Irish Republican Army laid down its arms last month. And so, one of the longest wars in history has ended. Or has it?

University of Illinois at Congress Circle, Chicago, is expected to open in 1964 for 9,000 students and expand within another five years to 20,000.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Mr. Nash:

I cannot resist the urge to answer your editorial column of last week on women—or rather, on your dislike of competition from women. I know if I tried to argue this matter with you in person you would so confuse me with grandiose verbiage and devious reasoning that I'd end up arguing for your side. So I'll write it.

Let me say first that I heartily agree with you that I'm sick and tired of seeing Jackie Kennedy plastered all over every newspaper, magazine and television screen. I might also add I strongly suspect she was put there by male editors, publicity men and public relations men.

As to your wall of dismay that women are taking over key positions in business just to prove their superiority to males, like yourself, I would like to introduce a startling idea to you, Jay: Women are people. Honest. Though I would be the last to say there is no difference between men and women (thank God) they still are people. Would you find it completely satisfying to make a career of just being a man? Perhaps go around lifting weights, flexing your muscles and emitting Tarzan yells to stay in character?

Would you feel, after seventy or eighty years of this, that you had led a supremely satisfying life? If not, why should you expect women to find complete bliss in spending 24 hours a day just being a woman? Just possibly, there are some women who like to do a job of work which has absolutely nothing to do with which sex she belongs to. If her output is colored by the fact that she's a woman, so is yours colored by the fact that you're a man. And also by your politics, your tastes and your private enthusiasms. As is hers. And so, Jay, I condemn you to a fate worse than death—to being just a person in the human race, as is each woman. Which puts you in the same general category as women. So you'd better quit making snide remarks about them. The battle of the sexes can be great fun at parties, but I doubt if any woman will get to be president of the United States just because she looks like Marilyn Monroe. Even men voters aren't that stupid.

In closing, your plaint about the lady editor who rules all the magazines purchased for her by her husband. I wonder how many ineffectual men hold key positions in large businesses, purchased for them by rich wives and mothers? So get a smart boy. Find a woman who can buy you some magazines. It works both ways, you know. Pearl Kapell, Correspondent

EDITOR'S NOTE: I'm sure you believe as I do, Mrs. Kapell, in a very old but well-remembered line which goes—"I may disagree with what you say, but I shall defend to the death your right to say it." The printing of this letter should be indices alive, I should say, of my belief in opinions from both sides of the fence, even if the grass is not greener on the other side.

—Jay Nash, Editor

Dear Sir: In answer to your remarks in your latest Letters to the Editor column I think the enclosed pamphlet should change your opinion.

The Sonic Boom is startling and will scare those who don't know what it is and why. The automobile also scared a lot of horses when it first arrived on our roads.

I believe a letter of thanks

Society of Antioch's 3rd Precinct

Several members of the executive committee of the Society spoke of different aspects of this year's Cancer Crusade in the county.

Arthur D. Kaufman, Chairman of the Committee, gave several reasons why he gave time to the cancer crusade. First, he said, he enjoyed activity in community affairs and his company encouraged such activity by its employees. Further, he felt that there is too much passive citizenship in our country—politically, economically and socially. Americans have become apathetic, he said, and are living off their heritage. We should all learn not to become immersed in our own vocations. The satisfaction of successful civic activity is sufficient personal reward. Lastly, he said, his reason for participating in this particular campaign is purely selfish—"It could be me."

Dr. Zannini emphasized the value of the publicity put out by the society in alerting and educating the public, and the strides in research made possible by funds collected by this campaign. Cancer of the colon and rectum, he said, is the most prevalent form of cancer. Nearly 40,000 people die annually from this form of the disease, though three out of four could be saved by early diagnosis and treatment. He prophesied that leukemia would be the first form of cancer for which a cure would be found. These, he said, are the reasons to fight cancer, with a "check-up and a check."

Dr. A. H. Sommers spoke on the need for industrial participation in the cancer crusade. Most individuals, he said, are unimpressed by statistics, finding a personal involvement, such as cancer in a relative or friend, more impressive.

Industry, more impersonal cannot ignore the fact that 50,000 man-years of productivity are lost each year because of cancer. Lake county industries suffer a proportionate share of this loss. Many local industries already seek to combat this loss by contributions to the cancer fund, and Dr. Sommers expressed the hope that more would be persuaded to join in the fight this year. Cash, he pointed out, is not the only contribution industries make—many of them encourage their employees to take an active part in the crusade, as witness himself and Mr. Kaufman.

Mrs. W. P. Galbraith, Publicity Chairman for the Crusade, told how the funds collected are used. Nationally, 34% goes to research, 28% to education, 20% to service to the cancer patient, 10% to fund-raising and 8% to administration. She pointed out that in Lake County the percentage used for fund-raising and administration is satisfactorily lower than the nation-wide figure.

After wading through a labyrinth of state and federal offices, via the telephone, an Antioch News reporter finally contacted a Mr. Zednick, who is responsible for control of the McHenry Locks, which regulate the water level of the Fox River.

Zednick reported that a tremendous increase of the water level had been ascertained below the locks. He attributed this increase to the fact that the river's ice had bottlenecked without breaking up. The locks, which are open year-round, have not been lowered because of the sluggish breakup of ice and increase of water below the locks. The condition south of the locks stretches all the way to Algonquin. Zednick stated that the controllers of the locks must equalize the waterflow. In the final analysis, he said that the bottom (south of the locks) would not be allowed to flood. This may mean, perhaps, that the upper portions of the river and adjoining lakes, will be allowed to flood in order to protect a larger and greater populated area to the south.

and many more were expected to leave the low-level Libertyville Estates. She expressed growing concern over the possible flood situation in the Antioch area and requested that preparations be made to combat the possible flood conditions here.

A/2c Arthur Wertz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wertz of Feltor's Subdivision, has written to his folks that he received a really satisfactory honor on his birthday recently—his second stripe. He also forwarded to his parents a copy of a letter given to him by his company commander. The letter was written to his commander by the commander of a company which had visited the base:

1. Recently members of this organization and myself had the privilege of visiting Cold Bay Recreation Camp. The trip was most enjoyable due to the enthusiastic cooperation and invaluable assistance of A/3c Arthur Wertz of your organization.

2. I would like to express my appreciation to Airman Wertz for a job well done. Cold Bay Recreation Camp was operated in a most impressive manner, due largely to the efficiency of Airman Wertz.

3. I would like my special thanks to be conveyed to Airman Wertz.

Added to the letter was a comment by Airman Wertz's commander:

UNITED STATES 12TH DIST. CARROLL FOR CONGRESS

Why Vote For A Man From A Smaller County?

Why will a Congressman from the smaller county more likely give better representation than will a Congressman from a larger county in a district?

Bill Carroll answered that question in a recent question-and-answer session as he discussed the race for U. S. Congress from the new 12th district.

The man from the smaller county is in close touch with citizens from all counties—in this case from all three counties (Boone, Lake and McHenry counties)—because he needs the voting support from all three counties to gain re-election in two years.

Bill Carroll is the only candidate from Boone and McHenry counties, the small counties in the 12th district. All seven other candidates for the Republican nomination live in Lake county.

Bill Carroll long has been active in all three counties and wants to represent all citizens in all three counties. To be assured of full representation in Congress, on April 10 vote for Title is taken from what the founder, Juliette Low, said when she returned from England in 1912 to found a movement for girls based on the organization that Lord Baden-Powell founded for boys—the Boy Scouts.

The film's hostess, musical comedy star, and active Girl Scout, Kitty Carlisle, guides the viewers through glimpses of Scouting's earliest days; what it was like to be a Girl Scout before, during and after World War I, camping in the '20's, the first international encampment, Juliette Low's final appearance, the depression years, the war years through to the present, providing a look at current-day Scouting activities, showing the continuing vitality of the movement.

The neighborhoods of the council are the life-lines of communication between the adult personnel and girls in troops and the delegate council body, a part of which is the Board of Directors. The neighborhood chairmen and their service teams are responsible for organizing and maintaining high quality troop program for girls.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS

The Royal Neighbors of Antioch will hold initiation at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, in the American Legion Hall.

Members of the committee for this meeting are Nellie Hanke, Emily Novotny, Alice Lawson and Ellen Frogner.

It's easy to forget the effectiveness of spontaneous community effort, and how one person can sometimes spark it. I saw this demonstrated Sunday. Our road has been covered with deeply rutted ice, and several cars have been stuck there lately. Our neighbor (Bill Scanlon) started trying to chop down some of the deepest ruts and opening channels to let the water drain off Sunday morning. He was soon joined in his efforts by one neighbor, then another, finally by a man visiting a neighbor. At the end of the morning, a solid six inches of ice had been chopped loose from the entire intersection of the twenty foot road and shoveled off to the sides. Maybe if we each did something about one little annoying problem right in front of us, instead of griping because some vague government official or paid hireling doesn't do it, we'd be surprised at the results.

The Nation's first state-supported School of Music was established in 1897 at University of Illinois.

In And About Our Town

(Antioch News Photo)

A long-time resident of Antioch and prominent businessman in the Village, Robert Wilton, Sr., has operated Wilton's Electric Shop since 1939.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. Wilton came to Antioch at the turn of the century in 1900. He was employed by Mrs. Charles Lux from 1920 up until 1939 until buying out the electric concern.

A graduate of Antioch Township High School, 1916, Mr. Wilton, during the early twenties was a pitcher with the semi-pro Ft. Atkinson team playing in the Fox River Valley League and the Nash Motors team which played in the Industrial League of that era.

A long list of civic and social organizations boasts Mr. Wilton's name as an active participant. Among some of them are: Master of the Masonic Lodge—1934, Board member of the Methodist Church, Organizer of the Lake County Shrine Club, 8 years as President of the Lake County Board of School Trustees, President of Antioch Lions Club, 1961, President of Antioch Fire Department, 1933, two-term trustee on the Village Board and trustee for the Grade School Board, (both in the 1920's).

He prepared for his vocation by attending the Preparatory Scholarships valued at $1,155, 941 were received by 5,860 University of Illinois students in 1960-61.

College in Kankakee. Married, with two sons, Bob and Bill, Mr. Wilton feels that "manufacturing and added subdivisions contribute to the significant growth in Antioch over recent years."

Mr. Wilton remembers a silent film called "A Day Down on the Farm," which was filmed in Antioch over forty years ago in a dirt street called Main on the Fields farm. "They went out on the Fields farm and chased hogs and chickens all over the place," Mr. Wilton said in describing the film's production. He also recalled the Wilton Opera House which is now the site of the First National Bank.

Built by his grandfather, Thomas Wilton, in 1880, the opera house presented John Emer's stock company and the talents of Mae Hosmer, stellar-stars of the past who came all the way from Chicago's roaring Loop in the days when downtown's Wabash Avenue was lined with wooden buildings, street barkers, hurdy-gurdies, dance halls and kerosene lamps.

Known all over the Antioch area, Mr. Wilton is one of the village's historians whose photos and memorabilia date back to the town's first important growths.

Lindenhurst News

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau
EL 4-5449

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 173 and Brownie Troop 126 at Lindenhurst, Lindenhurst, Women's Club meeting last Thursday, Mrs. Claffy showed slides while Mrs. Pearce narrated.

The committee for the recent Western Party announced that the party was a success.

Tickets for the Gas Company cooking demonstration that will be April 12, may be obtained from Mrs. Betty Ireland or at the door. The school will start promptly at 8 p.m.

Donations for the May 8 card party are needed. Members are asked to call Nancy Kleffner or Evelyn Lazansky.

The ladies discussed having one general Community Fund drive for the Village next year, instead of collecting for every drive that comes.

Babe Hartwig has agreed to be chairman of the dinner-dance that will be held in September. There will not be a luau, as in the past.

Membership chairman, Millie Caldwell, Olive White and Evelyn Lazansky are planning a surprise for the May meeting which is to be a Membership Drive Month.

Saturday afternoon movies

THE ANTIOCH NEWS
THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1962

will be starting soon in April. More details later.

Kitchen help is needed on Saturday nights when the Civic Center is not rented. Call Betty Ireland if you will be willing to help.

Citizen's Party

The Lindenhurst Citizen's Party will hold a meeting on Saturday, March 24, at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center on Old Elm Road.

This will be an "open forum" meeting. You are invited to hear what your Village officials have planned for the coming year. Be prepared to ask a question.

There is no admission charge. Ted Flanagan, village president, hopes everyone will attend.

Cana Conference

If you haven't made your reservation for the Cana Conference that will be held at Prince of Peace Church Sunday afternoon, you can still call Mrs. Richard Graas, Elliot 6-5874 any time Friday. Luncheon will be served.

The Rev. Salvatore Ognibene of Mission of Our Lady of Mercy in Chicago will be the speaker.

Favorite Checker

Dorothy Magness of Venetian Village was voted Favorite Checker in a recent contest held at the Piggly Wiggly in Linden Plaza. On Tuesday, March 6, she attended a luncheon at the Holiday Inn in Milan, Ill., with all the winners from the company's 102 stores, along with their district supervisors.

She received a beautiful orchid, and a pin saying she's checker of the year, and a certificate. After luncheon they went on a tour of the Piggly Wiggly warehouse and offices and met all the executives.

Dorothy has been with the company ever since they opened here in 1950. She is head-cashier and bookkeeper.

Bertha Cummings of Rock Island was chosen district winner and company winner. She will compete with the winners of all other supermarkets for a trip to Hawaii.

Bowling

Results of the Lindenhurst Men's Bowling League for Mar. 16: Joe and Helen's, 3; Lake Villa Pharmacy, 0; Saddle Inn, 3; Lindenhurst Sportsman's Club, 0; Corbin's Lounge, 2; Karry's Transmission, 1; Wolff's Resort, 1; Myers Standard Service, 1; Engle's Realtors, 2; Superior Bleach, 1; Florio's Pizzeria, 2; Reliable Meats, 1.

The bowling banquet will be held May 12 at Joe & Helen's.

Garden Club

The slate of officers of the Lindenhurst Garden Club to be installed at the April 2 meeting are Mrs. Sam Loblillo, president; Mrs. Ralph Stangel, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Kurzin, recording secretary; Mrs. Armand Bourque, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jerry Hazel, treasurer.

Mrs. Bechtol, president, thanks the ladies who helped her at the Countryside Rummage Sale. Representatives will meet at the home of June Eckert, Monday, April 2. Sale profits will then be announced.

Baby Sitting

Zelma Bechtol has been busy baby-sitting for her seven-month old granddaughter Lori, while her daughter, Judy Ulatowski has been with her husband, Bill, in Austin, Texas. Bill sets up offices in different cities about every nine months for his company, so the family is always on the go. Bill's mother, in Chicago, is minding the other two children for a while.

Teenage Club

The Teenage club held their first meeting Sunday evening since their very successful Doughnut sale, the Friday and Saturday before. The youngsters thank everyone who purchased their doughnuts, and give a special thanks to John Slove and Bob Splegl. Thanks, also, to Douglas Ploss for the posters he made advertising the sale.

Mickey Caldwell won the pool tournament. A dance contest also was held, with not too many contestants. The judges called it a draw between Chuck Maxwell and Linnea Christensen and Phillip Fahry and Toni Meier.

They decided to use some of the money from the doughnut sale to purchase a shuffle board game for the Civic Center, for everyone to enjoy.

The kids surprised Bob Splegl with a birthday cake and sang "Happy Birthday" to him. (His birthday was Saturday. What other day would an Irishman pick to be born on?) Bob said to tell the kids, "Thanks."

Next meeting will be April 1. Hospital Patient

Mrs. Sybil Berber of Briar Lane was a patient at St. Therese Hospital for three days last week, where she underwent treatment for spasm of the hip muscle. She is home now, recuperating. Speedy get-well wishes are expressed by friends and neighbors.

W. S. W. S. The Women's Society of World Service will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 22 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Bouldin on Beck Road.

Guest speaker will be Wilbur Harr, National President of the W. S. W. S. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Ruth Tuttle and Mrs. Pat Holcomb. All ladies are invited to attend.

Help Needed

Jack Springer, 1920 East Fairfield Road, scoutmaster of Troop 84 resigned Monday evening at a meeting held at the Civic Center. His position is taking him to Detroit, probably within the next two weeks. His family will stay here until school is out and then will join him at that time. Jack plans on coming back weekends.

Eddie Bonovitz, 1809 East Fairfield, is assistant scoutmaster, and will be acting scoutmaster until the committee finds a leader to take Jack's place.

The troop meets on Monday nights at the Lindenhurst Civic Center. If you would be willing to lead these youngsters will you please call Eddie at Elliot 6-3891 or Dudley Merles, chairman, at Elliot 6-7429.

Birthday Celebration

Ray Parpan, Sr. took Debbie Bonovitz, Jeffrey Koeckler, Lorie Gross and his own four children, Mary, Joe, Brian and Ray, Jr., to the Academy Theatre in Waukegan Sunday afternoon to see "The Three Stooges Meet Hercules."

Bowlers

The only women's bowling team in Lindenhurst, Marge Ebbry, Pat Parpan, Shirley Merles, but at the home of Pat Parpan in the true Irish tradition everything was decorated in green, and just about everything consumed was green. They had a fancy cake decorated green, and sipped grasshoppers and enjoyed other refreshments.

Troop 60

Brownie Troop 60 celebrated their 50th birthday last Thursday with a party. Mrs. Buksas baked a cake that the girls enjoyed.

According to recently released statistics, one out of every two drivers on the road today will either be killed or be involved in a major traffic accident during his lifetime.

The Pinspotters League will hold their bowling banquet April 23 at Pat's Lounge.

"Q.T.s"

Where else would the "Q.T.s" hold their St. Patrick's meeting

Mary Tracy and Betty Berning of Antioch won all three games Friday night when they bowled against the Leo Fox team.

Could it be because Mary Tracy wasn't there? And the sub, a girl named Merry was a left handed bowler. Pat also bowled at the start of the match. But she was happy like all the rest when the evening was over.

Klimas, of Venetian Village sponsors the girls.

The Pinspotters League will hold their bowling banquet April 23 at Pat's Lounge.

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Brooks, Inc.
Thursday night, March 29, our illustrious faculty team is going to attempt to reverse last year's loss to the Antioch Businessmen. The final score last game was 39-31. I hope the faculty is practicing hard and steady because from the looks of the final score of the A-Club vs. Faculty game on March 13, the teachers need some improvement. The score was 60-39 in favor of the A-Club. Let's get to work, Faculty! Now that the teachers have been harrassed enough, I shall move on to another subject.

The annual NORTHWEST SUBURBAN CONFERENCE MUSIC FESTIVAL was held Monday night, March 19, at Warren Township High School in Gurnee.

The choir and selected band members started the long practice sessions Saturday and Sunday. The final rehearsal was held Monday afternoon, March 19. The concert began at 8 p.m. and contained some very fine music. The Festival gives the students added experience in sight-reading and concert work. The band members who participated were as follows: Lynette Harms—Oboe; Kay Schimmel—Bassoon; Dave Cardiff and Cheryl Galati—Clarinet; Myrna Masek—Bass Clarinet; Harleen Young—Alto Saxophone; Rick Prossie—Baritone Saxophone; Jim Dupre and John Olsar—Cornet; Mary Kay Jarvis and Sandra Cremin—French Horn; Paul Erickson—Baritone; Fred Gebhardt—Tuba; and Jim Welterberg and Amy Lee Albert—Percussion.

Trevor News

By Mrs. Grace Miller
Miss Cheryl Kuska entertained a group of schoolmates

liced that Spring is finally arriving in Antioch. One of the most obvious ways to see this change is the chukholes in the pavement—localizing it more, the chukholes in the school lot. Wide and deep, cold and wet, they lay waiting for their next victim. They do serve one good purpose. One no longer sees cars speeding through the parking lot.

Another sure way to tell that Spring has struck is by looking into some of the classrooms. You guessed it! Spring Fever is once more invading Antioch High. It is only in the minor stages now. When the sun starts warming the air, the "Fe-ver" reaches the "critical" point. It is nice to see again, however. I thought Spring would never begin. I couldn't agree more with Morris Bishop when he says in a poem entitled "Nature's Garden":

"Let's to the meadows, lad, the year's at flood
And the boon earth persuades the errant foot!"

My feet are all ready to be persuaded. How about yours?

An Appraisal of Adeline Geo-Karis Lambros Candidate for CONGRESS

12th DISTRICT
Lake - McHenry - Boone Counties - Illinois

By
LEE R. FLEMING IN HIS HIGHLY RESPECTED COLUMN IN THE ZION-BENTON NEWS.

I prophesy that Adeline Geo-Karis Lambros of Zion will be the surprise candidate for Congress. She will surprise everyone by being one of the best vote getters in the race, and will, I believe, either win or be a close runner-up.

Geo-Karis was brought to this country from Greece when a near teenage girl. She got an education. She managed to study law and graduate near the head of her class. She enlisted in the Navy during the war and rose from the ranks to become a commissioned officer. If you don't think that's an exceptional accomplishment just ask any one who knows the Navy. It's not done on pull. One has to have what it takes and have more than a few thousand others have who are trying for the same thing.

Geo-Karis is still a reserve officer in the Navy - legal department. She came to Zion and Waukegan and built up a large practice. She served as Assistant State's Attorney and is one of the few women lawyers in Lake County.

When a woman can overcome all the obstacles and make the grade as has Adeline Geo-Karis Lambros, it's pretty certain that she will make an impression as a candidate for the U.S. Congress. Watch the vote. The people usually know a good candidate and this woman has what it takes.

'A' Club Soundly Whips Adult - Faculty Squad

An aging High School Faculty was humbled Thursday 60 to 39 in the annual Faculty-'A' Club basketball contest. Youth was the difference as the tiring faculty team could manage only 3 points in the final period to lose their second game in as many years.

Led by Denny Pogose, former varsity basketball team member, the 'A' team jumped off to a 15 to 10 first quarter lead. The faculty battled to a 10 to 10 second period deadlock to end the half trailing by five points, 25 to 20.

Rallying in the third quarter, the adults closed the gap to five points before the youngsters pulled away to a 48 to 36 lead. The A club scored 12 points in the fourth quarter to the Faculty's 3 and registered their second straight victory.

Denny Pogose took scoring honors for the A club with 24 points, followed by Hogan with 18.

Risberg led the teachers with 10 followed by Leon, Andrews and Polley with 8, 7 and 6 points respectively.

Oakland Grade School edged the Channel Lake Grade School in the curtain raiser 35 to 33. Sterbenz led the winners with 21
